

COURT OF KING'S BENCH
FOR SASKATCHEWAN

RESIDENTIAL TENANCY APPEAL GUIDE

This guide is only intended to provide legal information. While the guide is intended to provide correct information, it is not the law, and no judge of the Court is bound by any statement contained in this guide.

This guide is not a substitute for professional legal advice, including whether you should or should not make an application, what type of application you should make, whether there is law in support of your application and whether other legal options or strategies are available to you.

This guide is based upon The Residential Tenancies Act, 2006 and its regulations. This Act and regulations can be downloaded for free from Publications Saskatchewan here:

The Residential Tenancies Act: <https://publications.saskatchewan.ca/#/products/23011>

The Residential Tenancies Regulations: <https://publications.saskatchewan.ca/#/products/23014>

APPEALING AN ORDER OR DECISION OF THE OFFICE OF RESIDENTIAL TENANCIES

Can I ask the hearing officer from the Office of Residential Tenancies (ORT) to review and reconsider an order that it has made?

The ability of a hearing officer to amend or correct its decision is limited to:

- Correcting typographic, grammatical, arithmetic, or similar errors;
- Clarifying the decision or order; and
- Correcting an obvious error or inadvertent omission

A request for a correction of a decision or order must be made within 15 days of the decision. This request must be made at the Office of the Residential Tenancies.

What if I did not receive notice of the hearing?

If you did not receive notice of the hearing, please contact the Office of Residential Tenancies (ORT) at ORT@gov.sk.ca or 1-888-215-2222. Upon written request to the ORT, a hearing officer may consider whether to rehear an application when an order was made without hearing from the affected person. The affected person can also establish they did not receive notice of the hearing.

Can an order or decision made pursuant to The Residential Tenancies Act, 2006 by the Office of Residential Tenancies be appealed?

An order or decision made by the Office of Residential Tenancies (ORT) pursuant to The Residential Tenancies Act, 2006 may be appealed to the Court of King's Bench by filing and serving a Notice of Appeal within 30 days of the date of the order being appealed.

In counting 30 days, the count commences on the day after the date the order being appealed is dated and ends at 4:00 p.m. on the 30th day. In other words, the first day is excluded and the last day is included in the count. Weekends and holidays are included within the 30-day count. However, if the 30th day falls on a Sunday or other day when the Local Registrar's office is closed, the time to file the appeal is extended to the next day when the Local Registrar's office is open.

The appeal must be based on:

- A question of law; or
- A question regarding the jurisdiction of the Office of Residential Tenancies.

You may NOT appeal a finding of fact. This means that no new evidence intended to dispute a finding of fact by the hearing officer is to be presented.

In addition, a tenant cannot appeal an order of possession to evict the tenant for failure to pay rent or repeated late payments of rent, unless the tenant first obtains a Certificate of Payment of Rent to the Office of Residential Tenancies from the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies.

What happens with the order or decision of the Office of Residential Tenancies once my Notice of Appeal is filed in the Court of King's Bench?

An order or decision of the Office of Residential Tenancies is suspended once the Notice of Appeal for that order is filed in the Court of King's Bench until the appeal is decided, or the Court otherwise directs.

Process for Appealing an Order of the Office of Residential Tenancies to the Court of King's Bench

STEP 1: OBTAIN a Certificate of Payment of Rent to the Office of Residential Tenancies from the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies.

This step only applies if you are appealing a possession order for failure to pay rent or repeated late payments of rent.

Pursuant to The Residential Tenancies Regulations, 2007, section 10.1, the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies will issue a Certificate of Payment of Rent to the Office of Residential Tenancies to any tenant who deposits one month's rent in the amount set out in the order to be appealed.

Once the appeal is complete or at any other time the Director considers it appropriate, the Director will distribute the deposit.

STEP 2: SELECT a hearing date and PREPARE the Notice of Appeal in Form #1 (attached to this guide)

In selecting a hearing date for the Notice of Appeal, you will find Civil Chambers dates for each judicial centre published on the Court website at: <https://sasklawcourts.ca/kings-bench/court-locations/>.

If you are not sure about what dates you may choose from, contact the Office of the Local Registrar of the Court of King's Bench at that particular court location for assistance.

In any event, the hearing date:

- Must be set at least 14 days from the date of service and filing of the Notice of Appeal;
 - Must be the earliest possible chambers date at the Judicial Centre that complies with the service requirements following the date of filing of the Notice of Appeal; and
 - Must be selected from one of the Court's pre-scheduled and published regular chamber dates at the courthouse closest to where the residential unit is located.

STEP 3: SERVE the completed Notice of Appeal on the respondent and on the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies, at least 14 days before the hearing date.

- a) To serve a tenant who continues to reside in the rental unit at issue, the landlord or someone on behalf of the landlord may serve the tenant in one of the following ways:
 - Deliver a copy of the Notice of Appeal to the tenant in person; or
 - Post a copy of the Notice of Appeal on the front door of the tenant's rental unit AND either mail or send a copy of the Notice of Appeal to the tenant by registered mail, ordinary mail, or in electronic form (e.g. scanned or photographed copy attached to email or text message, or by fax).
- b) To serve a former tenant who no longer resides in the rental unit at issue, the landlord or someone on behalf of the landlord may serve the tenant in one of the following ways:
 - Deliver a copy of the Notice of Appeal to the tenant in person;
 - Mail a copy of the Notice of Appeal by registered mail to the tenant's known current address; or
 - Send a copy of the Notice of Appeal in electronic form (e.g. scanned or photographed copy attached to email or text message, or by fax) to the tenant's known electronic address or number.

- c) To serve a landlord, the tenant or someone on behalf of the tenant may serve the landlord in one of the following ways:
- Deliver a copy of the Notice of Appeal to the landlord in person;
 - Mail a copy of the Notice of Appeal by ordinary mail to the landlord at the landlord's address contained in the written tenancy agreement;
 - Send a copy of the Notice of Appeal in electronic form (e.g. scanned or photographed copy attached to an email or text message, or by fax) to the landlord's known electronic address or number; or
 - If the landlord does not reside in Saskatchewan and cannot be located, contact the Office of Residential Tenancies for assistance.
- d) To serve the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies with the Notice of Appeal, you must do one of the following:
- Leave a copy at the Office of Residential Tenancies with any person appearing to have authority to accept the notice;
 - Send a copy by registered mail addressed to the address of the Office of Residential Tenancies; or
 - Scan and email the electronic copy to ORT@gov.sk.ca.

Note about calculating the time of service:

In calculating the time of service, a Notice of Appeal that is served by mail will be deemed to have been served three business days following the date of its mailing.

If you serve the Respondent less than 14 days before the hearing date, the Notice of Appeal can still be filed, but you may need to explain to the presiding judge why the Respondent was served late (For example: if an earlier hearing date is needed to protect property from damage, or if the respondent evaded service, etc.)

The Court has the authority to dismiss your appeal due to late service or to permit the appeal to be heard despite late service of the Notice of Appeal on the respondent.

STEP 4: HAVE the person who served the Notice of Appeal on the respondent and on the Director of the Office of Residential Tenancies complete the Affidavits of Service proving that the documents were served.

The person who served the documents will need to swear or affirm:

- a) an Affidavit of Service on the Respondent in Form #2 if the Notice of Appeal was served upon the Respondent Tenant (attached to this guide)
- or
- b) an Affidavit of Service on the Respondent Form #3 if the Notice of Appeal was served upon the Respondent Landlord (attached to this guide)
- and
- c) the Affidavit of Service on the Director in Form #4 (attached to this guide).

These Affidavits of Service may be sworn/affirmed before staff at the Local Registrar's Office at the Court of King's Bench or before any other Commissioner for Oaths.

On the Affidavits of Service, the signature of the person who served the Notice of Appeal should not take place until they are in front of the Court staff or the Commissioner for Oaths

STEP 5: Within 30 days of the date of the Residential Tenancy Order being appealed, FILE with the Local Registrar:

- A copy of the Notice of Appeal (Form #1) attached);
- The Certificate of Payment of Rent to the Office of Residential Tenancies (in the case of an appeal of an order of possession for failure to pay rent or repeated late payments of rent);
- Sworn Affidavit of Service of the Notice of Appeal on the Respondent (Form #2 or Form #3 attached);
- Sworn Affidavit of Service of the Notice of Appeal on the Director (Form #4 attached);
- A copy of the order being appealed; and
- Payment of Court filing fee in the amount of $100.00.

A Notice of Appeal will not be accepted for filing unless it has been served on the respondent and director.

STEP 6: ATTEND Court on the date and time set out in the Notice of Appeal to present your argument in support of the appeal.

- You must either go to court on the date and time noted in your Notice of Appeal or you must make arrangements prior to the court date to request appearance by phone. This can be done by contacting the Local Registrar’s Office in writing to request appearance by telephone. This should be done as soon as possible before the court date. You should not be calling in the morning set for the appearance and be asking to appear by phone. The presiding judge may or may not approve this request.

If permission has been given to appear by phone, it is your responsibility to ensure that you have a reliable and secure telephone line. A location where background noise is minimal should be utilized. Also, wherever possible, a land line should be used, rather than a cell phone, as a land line connection is generally of better quality.

- You must go to court at the time and on the date that you chose in your Notice of Appeal. You should arrive at the court house fifteen minutes early. When you arrive at the court house, ask a member of the court staff in the Local Registrar’s office to give you directions to the room where your appeal will be heard. The court staff will post a list of the cases that the judge will be hearing on that day and/or the list will be in the room. Find your case on this list. The judge will probably be hearing most cases on the list. You may have to wait only a few minutes, or you may have to wait several hours before your appeal is heard.
- If you are not at court, or available by telephone (if you have made those arrangements in advance), your application may be “struck” or thrown out of court, and you will have to do all the work again.
- When you walk into the room where your appeal will be heard, you will see a person sitting beside, or in front of, the judge’s chair. This person is the court clerk. Get in line to speak with the court clerk. You will need to tell the court clerk who you are, and they will make a note that you are present in court. After you have talked to the court clerk, you can sit down.
- When the judge calls out the name of your case, stand up. There will be a table at the front of the court room. You can stand there and place your notes on the table or podium.

- Since you are the Applicant, usually you will speak first. Tell the judge your name and that you are representing yourself. You can refer to the judge as “Justice” or “Justice [last name]”. Tell the judge in clear and simple words what your Appeal is about. Remember, you should have a copy of all of the documents you have filed in court with you.
- You should have prepared what you want to say to the judge in advance. If you have written out what you want to say in point form, you will not forget to say something that you believe is important. If the judge asks you any questions, answer clearly, honestly and as best you can. Do not interrupt the judge when they are talking. Always be polite.
- After you have presented your case, the other party, or their lawyer, takes their turn.
- When the other party or their lawyer is speaking, do not interrupt if you disagree with what is said. When they are finished, you will be able to reply to points they have raised. It is a good idea to write a note about what you disagree with, so that you will remember to make that point when you have a chance to respond.
- At the end of the hearing, the judge will either:
 - a) adjourn the appeal to a later date;
 - b) reserve judgment; or
 - c) make an order.

If your hearing is “adjourned” that means it is postponed to a later date. The judge may do this if either party requests one, or if further submissions are required, or in any other circumstances the judge considers appropriate.

If the judge “reserves” judgment, it means that the judge needs more time to think about the appeal before making a decision at a later date. A judge can take as long as they wish to make the decision. The court staff will contact you when the decision is made. Make sure the court staff know how to reach you.

The judge may make an order on the spot. Remember, you should make notes on what the judge is saying.

What happens if I do not serve and file my appeal within 30 days?

If your Notice of Appeal is not served and filed within 30 days of the order, the Local Registrar WILL NOT accept your appeal, and the enforcement of the order will not be suspended.

However, upon application, a judge may extend the time for appeal for up to two years from the date of the order of the Office of Residential Tenancies, if you can establish that you did not receive notice of the decision or order.

An application to extend the time for filing an appeal does NOT suspend the order that the applicant wishes to appeal.

How can I apply to the court to extend the time for appeal?

This application may be made by Application without Notice. However, the Court may direct that the application be made with notice to the opposing side by a Notice of Application. If needed, the Local Registrar can provide you with a guide for making an application to the Court by Notice of Application.

An Application without Notice to extend the time for appeal may be made by completing and filing:

- Form 6-4 attached to this guide at Page 19;
- Sworn Affidavit of Applicant attached to this guide at Page 22;
- Court filing fee of $20.00.

The purpose of this application is not to determine if you would or would not be successful in your appeal.

The purpose of this application is to determine whether the time for appeal should be extended because you did not receive notice of the decision or order.
